EUROPE IS WITH US.

ALARMISTS have tried to make a little cheap capital from the assembling of foreign fleets off the coast of Mexico. Close analysis of the situation shows there is nothing to fear. Europe has too much at stake to foment trouble or to engage in a war that could only mean an enormous taxation with a paucity of reward. Mexico is the protégé of the United States and must ever remain so until such time as it is found expedient to repudiate the Monroe doctrine. The mobilization of warships at Vera Cruz fortifies the demands of the United States, as every fresh arrival of floating embattlements implies that the guns behind the steel bulwarks are ready to fire in support of the contentions of this country. The recent order for the Gulf of Mexico fleet floating the British standard to hurry to the seat of trouble, is only an indication of the awakened consciousness of that country that the only salvation for Mexico is a regeneration through the instrumentality and good offices of the powers at Washington. It is not probable that any serious consequences will ensue. The presence of so many foreign vessels will signify the fact that they are working in unison and to the end that peace may be restored and prosperity brought back to a nation that has been torn with dissension since the days when Diaz slipped out for Spain and expatriated himself. The warships are coming with the full knowledge and consent of this country for the purpose of making a demonstration to convince the recalcitrants that they must listen to reason or take the consequences. Their coming does not portend hostilities, but an amicable mission that may bring the moral pressure of big guns to bear on altering the obstinacy of the belligerent Mexican factions. Germany is hovering in the offing with a fleet that can be thrown into the Gulf of Mexico at a few hours' notice. This is particularly significant, as Germany has greater mercantile interests at stake in Mexico than even the United States, but the kaiser wants peace that his subjects and interests in that quarter may prosper, and he is not going to invite hostilities when England, France, Spain and Japan are arrayed on the other side. Italy is the only great naval power that is not represented, but that is explained by the demands on her resources from the other side of the world. She has all she can do watching Tripolitan waters and feels safe in committing her interests to Uncle Sam.

At the lord mayor's banquet, in London, Herbert H. Asquith, premier of Great Britain, gave solemn assurance that his country would keep its hands off Mexico, in saying: "It is no part of our duty to prevent or to control civil wars. The utmost we can do is to give what protection is possible on the coast to British subjects and property. There have been rumors that, after the United States had adopted a line of their own in regard to Mexico, we took a line calculated deliberately to thwart America. There is not a vestige of foundation for such a rumor." The London Times and other opposition newspapers uphold Premier Asquith's position enthusiastically, and Lord Cowdray, head of the Pearson oil syndicate, denies that he is lending money to Huerta.

France goes even further. The French government has notified Paris bankers that it will be displeased if they furnish money to the Huerta administration. This will render effective Mr. Bryan's plan to starve out Huerta.

Stock of the Los Angeles Investment company sold with a promise of 10 per cent dividends a month is quoted at an even dollar. This beats the Riekey promises to pay that caused depositors to sell their certificates for 25 cents on the dollar when the debtors were buying them in to pay off their obligations.

The last big labor war in Colorado was during the Cripple Creek boom, when Governor Waite sent troops into the field to protect the men who defied the sheriff's posse. It looks like the same spineless direction was manifested in the Trinidad field, where life and property are jeopardized.

Ambassador Page at the court of St. James is aping the knee-breeches regime of his aristocratic predecessor by assuring the papers that the people of this country that Americans are "cousins by blood." Better ask some of our German, Irish, Swedish and Norwegian citizens.

Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy, who is sitting on the safety valve at the City of Mexico, might be more prominent if he had a shorter name. It is hard to use it in headlines.

Juarez bankers have made a "loan" to Carranza on promise to pay IF the war is successful. This is a security that would not appeal to many American bankers.

California has a law providing that all fines from automobile owners for speeding should be paid into the road fund. This is a suggestion for Governor Odie.

Isn't it about time to draw the color line on that all-black football team from New Zealand?

This Navajo uprising is nothing more than a boost for the blanket market.

AGED MAN WINS SUIT AGAINST HOME BUILDERS

AWARDED $2000 JUDGMENT AGAINST DIRECTORS OF DEFUNCT FIRM.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—James Cooney, 76 years of age, who invested $2000 in the Occidental Home Builders' association, a defunct organization of this city, was granted a judgment against the directors of the association for $2000 by Superior Judge Peter J. Shields today. The court holds W. D. Lawton, J. W. Reeves, G. A. Wendt and A. Cassell, all directors, liable. The suit had been under advisement for several weeks.

Robert Armstrong, a director, who was a defendant to the suit, is relieved of liability because he was not present at the meeting of the board of directors when stock was issued to the directors for 10 cents a share.

The suit grew out of misrepresentations made to Cooney that all the stock of the Occidental Home Builders was selling at par value. Cooney paid 50 cents a share for 4000 shares. The directors issued stock to themselves at 10 cents a share, and testified that they regarded their experience as business men worth the 40 cents difference. The court held that the knowledge that the stock had been sold under par and no effort was made to notify agents that it had been so sold constituted a legal fraud.

GOLD PLACERS IN ALASKA.

Since mining began in Alaska in 1880 the gold placers of the territory have yielded 7,488,491 fine ounces of gold, valued at $154,890,875. These mines have also produced 1,652,016 fine ounces of silver, with a commercial value of $960,743, according to A. H. Brooks of the United States geological survey.

The gold placer mines of Alaska are estimated to have produced in 1912 gold to the value of $11,990,000. Railroad development is the thing that is most needed, and it is not to be expected that under the present industrial conditions there will be any stability of placer gold output in the territory. So long as the high cost of transportation prevails the production of placer gold must depend on the exploitation of bonanza deposits, for these alone can be expected to yield profitable returns.
